

Editorial

Sankar Gangopadhyay

Editor-in-Chief, Brainwave: A Multidisciplinary Journal
Vice Chancellor, Brainware University, Barasat, West Bengal, India
Email: brainwave@brainwareuniversity.ac.in

I am feeling honored to unveil Volume No. 6 and Issue No. 1 of “Brainwave: A Multidisciplinary Journal”, published by Brainware University, West Bengal, India. The articles in this Issue take care of various emerging areas related to different disciplines. I am quite confident that the articles in this Issue will generate motivation of research activities in various multidisciplinary areas and as such equip the readers adequately so as to enable them to make novel contributions to the literature.

Our policy comprises double blind peer review of the submitted articles by at least two independent reviewers. Further, our reviewers possess excellent academic as well as research profiles. I gratefully acknowledge the honorable reviewers for their hard work in sorting out the novel articles in respect of acceptance for publication in our Journal.

Further, I also express my gratitude to the members of both editorial board and editorial advisory board. I am also thankful to the authors for choosing our Journal as the platform to showcase their research work.

Moreover, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to other stake holders of the University, who work extremely hard in order to ensure timely publication of this Journal.

We have tried our level best in order to maintain the quality of the Journal. Still, there may be room for improvement. Thus, I take this opportunity to invite constructive suggestions from the readers, contributors and other concerned persons for the betterment of the Journal.